

Sinclair
Broadcasting is forcing it's stations to air an anti-Kerry
documentary days
before the election.

This action is a
clear example of how
media consolidation
is bad for the public good.

Sinclair's stations
use the public
airwaves free of charge, and are obligated to serve
the public interest.
But when large
companies control
the airwaves, we get more of what's good
for the bottom line
and less of what is in the public interest.

Sinclair's actions
show why we need to strengthen media
ownership rules.
These issues need to be considered in the license renewal
process.
Thank you.